WOW! A new school year is here already!? Time sure flies...

I want to greet all the new first year students to SIT first off, so... HELLO EVERYONE!!!!

My name is Isaiah (イザヤ), one of the ALTs here at SIT! I hope that you will have a great year here at our school. If you see me, feel free to come talk to me!

I draw a new joke on the white board in the canteen every week. It's a good way to learn a bit of English, and have some fun, so please go check them out! We also have an English board there. I just started a new thing where I put a new poster up every day that shows off a different food we celebrate in America. It is called the "USA Foods Holidays", so please go check that out, along with all the other cool stuff we put up!

Anyway, hopefully you all had a great spring break. Unfortunately, I did not get to travel during spring break, but I did try a bunch of new foods! Ramen and soup curry are my two favorite Japanese foods, so I went to try a bunch of new shops over break. I tried sardine ramen (7/10), milky cheese ramen ((left picture) 2/10), sudden death mega spicy ramen ((right picture) 8/10), coconut soup curry from SAMA (9/10) and a bunch more!

I would love to hear about what you did to relax and have fun over break, so please come tell me when you see me!

Until next time!

- Isaiah
